Why Let's Digital

The Let's Digital project was born during the Covid-19 pandemic when most in-person activities, including training, were stopped and switched to online modes. The use of ICT by both trainers and beneficiaries became crucial.

However, in this context, we have on the one hand educators and trainers who were not prepared to move to distance and home-based learning methods and, on the other hand, we have migrant women, one of the groups that experienced the most difficulties in this transition, whose possibilities to participate in training and inclusion pathways further decreased.
